ABSTRACT

This compilation presents statistics about Wisconsin's libraries. Information on public library collections, finances, and staff is given for the state as a whole and by community. A map indicates the locations of the state's libraries, and directories provide addresses and names of library directors. In 1993 there were 380 public libraries in Wisconsin in 17 public library systems. These libraries served five million state residents. Library support is primarily a local responsibility, but state aid did account for about 10.7% of the $121.8 million 1993 operating income, and federal aid was about 0.8%. Local tax support for public libraries varies considerably, ranging from $1 per capita to over $150. System and public library staff full-time equivalents increased from 2,654.3 in 1992 to 2,730.5 in 1993. The total number of volumes remained stable in 1993, but video and audio recordings increased statewide. A directory and some summary statistics are given for academic libraries and special library services in Wisconsin, listed by community. (SLD)

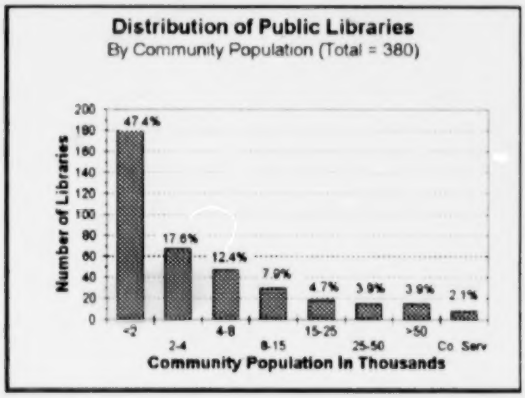
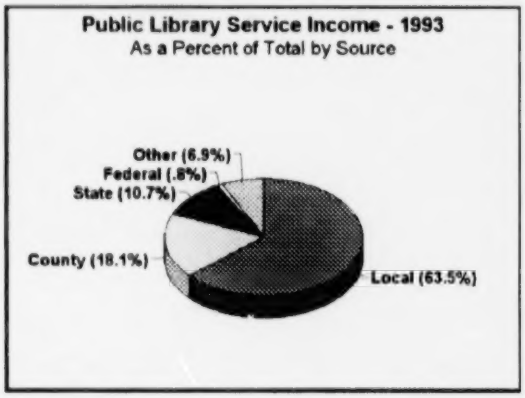
1993 STATE SUMMARY

The data presented in this report were compiled from information collected through the Wisconsin Public Library Annual Report - 1993. Definitions used for the reporting of this public library data are those developed under the Federal-State Cooperative System for Public Library Data and are available from the Wisconsin Division for Libraries and Community Learning.

Wisconsin has 380 independent public libraries organized into 17 public library systems. These systems and public libraries serve 5 million state residents. All public libraries and all counties are system members. There are 7 consolidated county libraries with the county providing all public library services. Two libraries are joint city-county libraries and 23 are joint municipal (city, village and town) libraries. One public library is a school district library and one is a joint public and academic library. Three hundred thirty-eight libraries are organized as municipal public libraries. Eight counties supplement local library service with county library service organizations.



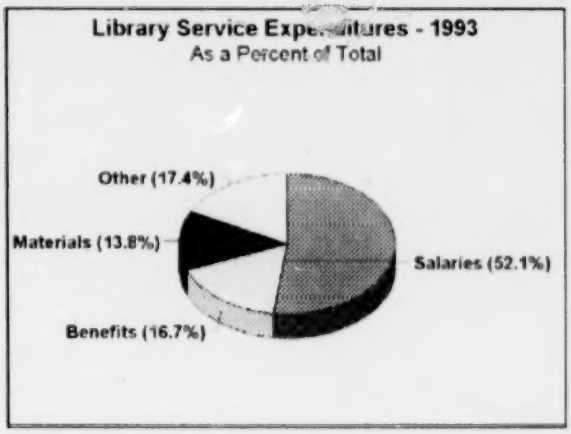
Support for public libraries remains primarily a local responsibility. Of the $121.8 million in public library operating income in 1993, municipalities provided $77.4 million or 63.5 percent of the total; and counties provided $22.1 million, 18.1 percent. State aid accounted for 10.7 percent of all income while federal aid provided about .8 percent. Contract income, gifts, endowment, and all other income contributed the remaining 6.9 percent. Total funding increased by 7.5 percent over 1992.



Local tax support for public libraries varies considerably. Per capita support ranges from $1 to over $150. The state average per capita support is $19.81. Residents supporting a local municipal library, including consolidated counties and joint libraries, average $23.67 per capita. Non-resident users, those living outside the municipal jurisdiction of the library's home community, support public library service at an average rate of $8.88 per capita.

System and public library staff FTEs (full-time equivalents) increased in total from 2,654.3 in 1992 to 2,730.5 in 1993. The number of FTE librarians holding a MLS increased to 589 from 559 in 1992. The number of direct loans exceeded 43.7 million with per capita circulation at 8.7. Over one-half of the state's 5 million residents are registered users of public libraries.

Expenditures for public library service increased by 6.3 percent over 1992 to $114.3 million. Salaries and wages including benefits totaled $78.6 million, 68.8 percent of all expenditures. Library materials expenditures were $15.7 million, 13.8 percent of all spending. All other expenditures, $19.9 million, were 17.4 percent of all funds spent.



The total number of volumes held remained at the 1992 level of 16.3 million. The number of titles added increased by 6.6 percent from 1992. The number of video recordings held continued to grow increasing by 23 percent over last year. The number of videos held statewide has increased from 7,300 in 1984 (the first year statistics were collected) to 252,429 in 1993. The number of audio recordings increased by 3.4 percent.

Since 1989 Wisconsin has collected data on output measures for public libraries and the number of libraries providing this information has grown steadily. Comparisons over time are not yet possible due to the changing number of libraries reporting in these categories. However, in 1993 only the in-library use of materials category had responses from less than 92 percent of all libraries. This item was dropped from the national data collection effort and has been made optional for Wisconsin libraries. Many libraries have since ceased collecting this information.

All other collected output measures continue to show increases for Wisconsin public libraries. State libraries responded to 5.5 million reference questions in 1993. The total number of visits to the library annually by residents was 24 million. Libraries provided 3,700 programs for adults with attendance of nearly 100,000 persons. In addition, nearly 31,000 programs for children and young adults were offered with an attendance of just under 1 million. Interlibrary loan of library collection materials continues to be high in Wisconsin with an annual count of nearly 600,000 items loaned.

PUBLIC LIBRARY DATA PERCENTILES

The following tables present selected public library data as percentile values. These tables are provided to facilitate comparisons among public libraries serving communities of similar population size. Tables 1 through 9 present percentiles values based on community populations for the data provided by the 1993 Wisconsin Public Library Annual Reports.

Using the public library's home community population size as a measure of the population served has several disadvantages. Chief among them is the failure to account for the 25 percent of the state's population living outside of communities supporting a public library. In an attempt to overcome this limitation, the Division for Libraries and Community Learning has estimated the number of non-residents served and by adding that estimate to the population of the home community has arrived at an initial estimate of each library's total service population.

The non-resident population served was estimated by dividing the community population by the total of all community populations for each county and multiplying the result by the county non-resident population. For example, consider a county of 20,000 population. The total population of communities with libraries is 16,000. The population of non-residents served by these libraries is then 4,000. The assignment of these persons to a library would be done as follows:

Library	Pop.	Pop. / Pop. Total	Non-Resident Served Estimate	Total Served
City A	8,000	8,000/16,000= .50	.50 X 4,000 = 2,000	10,000
Village B	4,000	4,000/16,000= .25	.25 X 4,000 = 1,000	5,000
Village C	4,000	4,000/16,000= .25	.25 X 4,000 = 1,000	5,000
Totals	16,000		4,000	20,000

Tables 1A through 9A present the percentile rankings for libraries by total estimated service population. Holdings and staff per 1,000 population or per capita standards have been recalculated in these tables to correspond with the estimated service population.

The data can be used to compare public libraries. For example, a library serving a total estimated population of 7,000 people has available 3.8 volumes per capita placing it at just under the 60th percentile (see Table 2A). This library's holdings per capita is greater than that of over 50 percent of the libraries in its population group (4,000 to 7,999).
